The Alma Mater

Hail, Alma Mater, dear
 High wave thy colors clear;
 Thee we shall e'er revere
 All through the years.
 Let courage be our stand,
 Honor our guiding hand,
 Conquer throughout the land
 Valley Forge for thee.

Strengthen us in the fray.
 Help us from day to day;
 Increase thy line of gray,
 Glory all for thee.
 Teach us to know thy worth.
 To sing thy praise on earth,
 And guard thy noble birth
 Valley Forge for thee.

Lead us with beacon bright.
 Guide our steps firm and right
 So we may always fight,
 Buff and blue for thee.
 When our last taps are played
 May thou be not dismayed.
 We pray as once he prayed,
 Valley Forge for thee.

The Editor's Introduction

It is our unique privilege in this, our last editorial assignment, to present you, the Class of 1960, with your one lasting memento of your years at Valley Forge. We are on the brink of a new life; never again will the familiar sound of first call beckon us to formation. Now we are on our own in a wider world, all following our separate paths to maturity, but having a common heritage.

We have shared four happy years—perhaps they were too happy. The time has come when we must depart—never again to don our Cadet Grays. As we go, a part of us remains, but in return we take with us many memories—some sad, many happy, but all beloved. None of us will ever forget our days as Cadets, days in which we learned to live and love our Alma Mater.

As we follow our various roads through life, let us never feel alone. We will always have a home here at Valley Forge, a place which we love and to which we can return to see the fine traditions we once lived carried on in the Long Line of Gray.

In parting, Friends, We wish you the best of luck in future years. May God Bless You!

Fall

On August 23, 62 of us—members of the class of 1960—arrived at the Academy to become members of the Officer Candidate's School. Bright and early the next morning our training began. During the next eleven days we received lectures on leadership, practiced drill movements and learned the techniques of teaching which we would rise in instructing our class of 450 plebes in the basic rudiments of becoming a Cadet.

Upon our return, we noticed additions to two of the buildings on the campus. A second transept had been built on the Chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion. This beautiful addition was donated by Alumni and friends of Valley Forge Military Academy. The other addition was a wing on the west end of Martin Hall. This provided additional barracks for the largest Corps Valley Forge had ever seen.

Our Football Team and Band arrived on August 29. Each started to work immediately in its respective field. Their initiative and hard training had their rewards: a top-notch football team and one of the best Bands in the Academy's history.

Tuesday, September 1, was the day on which the cadets in the Non-Commissioned Officer Candidate's School returned to the Academy. Their training, equally as intensified as our, prepared them to train the old cadets and refresh them in their military responsibilities. Their training, like ours, proved invaluable in making our Corps the best the Academy has ever seen.

Two days later, on September third, the New Cadets arrived. They were greeted with the friendly smiles of the well-shined, neatly turned out members of the Plebe Detail. Dressed in their freshly pressed whites. The next, our New Cadets found no friendly smiles—only scowls—as they were awakened at 6.05 by the resounding cry of "Plebes" echoing across the campus.

The new cadets were given a tour of the Academy in anything from blankets to bathrobes, others lively clad at all. As they stood with bewildered looks on their faces, we scrutinized them closely and saw frightened, confused, insecure kids. In a few days, however, their looks of bewilderment changed to looks of pride and assurance as they progressed towards becoming Cadets worthy of being members of our Corps.

The academy year was officially opened on Sunday, September 13. The exercises, held in the Cadet Chapel, were highlighted by an address by General Baker; the Superintendent also announced faculty promotions at this time.

The Old Cadets returned to the Academy on the 15th of September. These men, the backbone of the Corps, returned eager to undertake the task of making our Corps the best in the Long Line of Gray.

The three and a half weeks of hard labor by the Plebe Detail were finally to be rewarded. Hopes were high and the tension mounted as the day of the Make List approached. It was published at Second Mess on Thursday, September the 17th. Appointments of officers and non-commissioned officers were made; the Corps was formed for the first time, and we would now be working to make each of our respective companies the best in the Corps.

The newly promoted officers and non-commissioned officers of the Corps of Cadets were very fortunate to have been given some advice by a very distinguished retired Army officer and friend of the Academy. That person was Lt. General Edward Brooks, retired. In his speech to the officers, he handed down a multitude of well proven and sound ideas about leadership.

On September 21 we received our book issue and our schedule of classes. The next day, the 25th, regular classes began. From then on regular academic classes were our most important activity. We, the first class, realized the importance of our senior year; we spent many long hours doing history notes and cramming equation after equation of trigonometry into our heads. Foremost in our mind was one thing: college acceptance.

Honor is one of the most important aspects of cadet life. The Honor Code is strictly upheld by the Corps. Thusly, one of the most highly respected ceremonies of the year was the induction of the Honor Council. The induction took place on Sunday, September 27th. After taking the oath, each member of the Honor Council was presented with his badge of office by the Superintendent.

At various times throughout the year, the members of the First and J. C. Sophomore classes attended Forum Lectures on Democracy given by outstanding citizens of Pennsylvania. These forums were conducted once a month, the first taking place on Friday, October 2nd. Com

The cadets of the Junior College attended their first dinner in the Officer's Mess on October 8th. They were treated to a dinner of roast beef and were each given some sound advice and information by Colonel Carne concerning the value of a college education.

On October 9th Brigadier Wieler, Major and Resident Governor of the Tower of London, presented to the Corps a very interesting lecture about the Tower of London and its history and traditions. It was one of the most interesting and enjoyable evenings we had spent, and is long remembered by all who heard it. On the following Tuesday, October 13th, the National Honor Society inducted its new members. The Society's president, Walter Becker, administered the oath to the candidates after a brief introduction to the principles of the Society; scholarship leadership, character, and service.

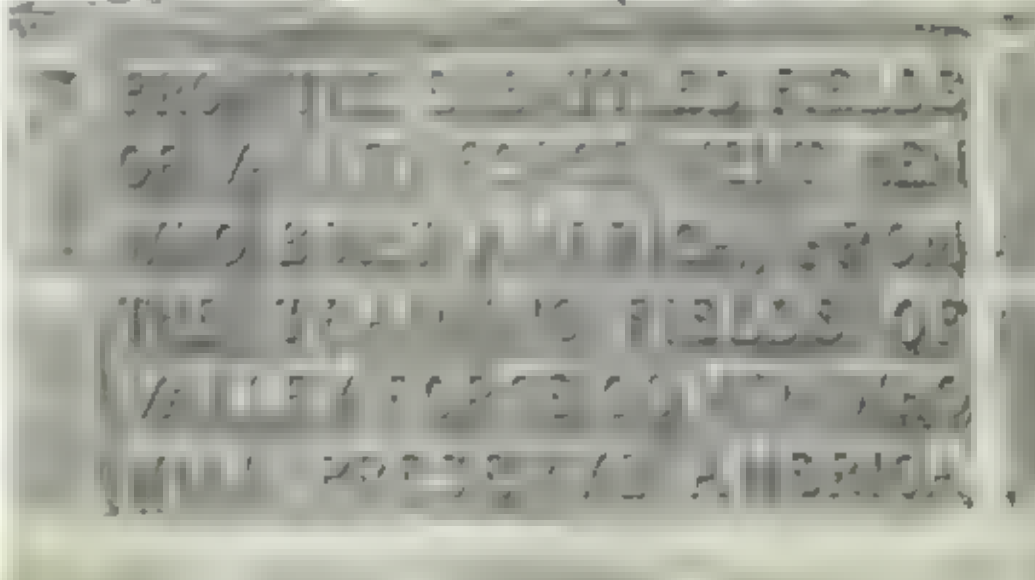

Our Band had a very unusual opportunity this year. On October 15th, they left for a four-day visit to the Royal Military College of Canada. It was both interesting and educational to live with these highly disciplined cadets of our great neighbor, Canada. They returned tired, but elated with a few souvenirs and many happy memories of a very enjoyable weekend.

On October 16th and 17th the advisor and co-editors of the Crossed Sabres attended the Columbia Scholastic Press Conference at Columbia University in New York. They attended a series of lectures and forums presented by outstanding men in the field of journalism. It was both profitable and an enjoyable trip for them; they returned to the Academy full of ideas on how to improve the book and anxious to set these ideas into action

A big occasion in the social development of a cadet officer is the annual Cadet Officer's Mess. To many of us it was our first introduction to a formal dinner. Held on Thursday evening, October 22. It was one of the outstanding memories of our First Class year. After thoroughly enjoying a delicious dinner, we received an address by the Superintendent, Lt. Gen. Milton G. Baker. In it he gave us a brief resume of the preceding two months and offered many suggestions to us concerning the improvement of our Corps.

The next afternoon, Friday, October 23, "D" Troop and the Band made one of their semi-annual trips to the National Horse Show at Harrisburg. The Troopers were thrilled at the opportunity to view the nation's prize-winning horses; the Band performed magnificently for the enjoyment of our nation's horse lovers.

The Valley Forge Military Academy lost one of its finest teachers on October 19th. Colonel Anthony C. Rosso, chairman of the Foreign Language Department, passed away in his sleep that night, much to the regret of everyone at the Forge. He was one of the most respected men on the post; many of his friends, both faculty and cadet, attended his funeral on October 23.

The Band and Glee Club present to the Corps each year a series of Sunday evening concerts. The first took place on October 25th. It was the first time we had heard the Band perform, and both the faculty and cadets enjoyed it immensely.

The cadets of the Junior College attended their first dance on Saturday, November 7. Held in the beautifully decorated Thomas Hall gymnasium, the dance was a huge success; everyone regretted the sounding of Taps, marking the end of a memorable evening.

From the time the Corps was first formed on September 17th, we had been working toward one goal: to be at the peak of our military excellence by November 8th. This was the date on which Mellon Hall was dedicated. Our long hours of determined training paid off; we performed as well as many a seasoned Corps had during their spring parades, when they had had more months to prepare.

We, the Corps, took great pride in displaying our military bearing and ability to the hundreds of outstanding visitors present on this great occasion. Starting the day, General Baker accompanied General Mellon onto the post through the main gate, and along Continental Drive, which was lined on both sides by cadets in full dress parade uniform. They were greeted on the main area by an honor guard composed of the cadets in Headquarters Company. After a brief recess, there was a parade ground review, followed by a dinner in honor of General Mellon held in the Officer's Mess. At 8:30 the Corps and their guests assembled for the dedication ceremony. The Superintendent introduced General Mellon to the assemblage, who made an address before laying the cornerstone.

Mellon Hall, as the name denotes, was donated to the Valley Forge Military Academy by Major General Richard King Mellon, soldier, statesman, and friend of the Academy. The beautiful structure, located on Baker Field, is our student union building. In it are located the Crossed Sabres and Legionnaire offices, a modern bowling alley, a beautiful ballroom, and fully-equipped rifle range, a television room, and many game rooms, to name just a few. The building proved to be the center of extra-curricular activities enjoyed by the Corps this year; to General Mellon we owe our most sincere thanks.

Our second in the series of forum lectures on democracy was held on Friday evening, November 13th. The topic of Practical Applications of Democracy was presented by Dr. Korn, Rabbi of Keneth Seth Israel Temple.

The next day, November 14th, was a long awaited occasion for the new cadets: recognition. There was a parade on the parade field, during which the cup of the best plebe company was presented to Cadet Nute, company commander of Gettysburg Training Company. At long last the plebes were full fledged members of the Corps; now they could forget squaring the corridors and eating at attention. After the parade, the newly recognized cadets were enthusiastically welcomed to the Corps with a hearty handshake from the old cadets

That same evening the Corps attends its first dance of the year. The Autumn Ball, enjoyed by both the Corps and the faculty, was held in the gymnasium. It was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the time and effort put in by the Hop Committee was deeply appreciated. Once again they had made a successful evening for the Corps

On Tuesday afternoon, November 17th, a General Motors Preview of Progress science demonstration was presented to the Corps. It was very educational to see the progress being made by one of our nation's outstanding scientific research organizations. The following week end was the first of three R.O.T.C. field training periods. Under the careful supervision of our M.S.&T. instructors, we learned the basic elements of a field soldier. Thanksgiving Leave began on Thursday, November 26th, for J. C., Gold Star, Silver Star, and First Class cadets and those who had earned the Superintendent's Award. It had been long anticipated, and the four days passed entirely too rapidly; before we realized it, we were returning to the Academy on Sunday evening

The annual Football Dinner was held in the gymnasium on December 3; it was attended by members of the varsity football team and the winning Intramural athletic teams. The next evening a group of 25 cadet officers attended a party held at the T.V. Guide Building by Mr. and Mrs. Annenburg. It was a very impressive evening, enjoyed by all

On Monday, December 8th, the names of cadets who had received Honor School Appointments to the Service Academies were announced, to West Point: Robert Bridgers, Dwight Raymond, and John Speedy; to Annapolis: Edward Koster, Charles Henrich, and Christopher Guthrie; to the Air Force Academy: John Slough, Walter Becker, and Jack Thornton. These men were thrilled with their appointments, and the Corps was proud to know that if these men went on to the Academies, they would be a credit to their Alma Mater.

Two days later, Captain Everand Nicholson, instructor in mathematics was appointed Director of Guidance, and promoted to Major. Everyone, faculty and Corps alike, was pleased with his promotion; he started to work immediately and was the formulator of many innovations to the improvement of a cadet's life

For three days, December 7th, 8th, 9th, the Corps of Cadets labored through first term exams. We studied hard in preparation for them, and after the grueling test periods our thoughts turned to the approaching Christmas Season at Valley Forge. The first of our traditional Christmas ceremonies was the Christmas Vespers Service. Held on Friday evening, it featured a trio of female harpists. The main of the service consisted of traditional English type carol singing. Capt. Woodside and the Choir added to the musical beauty of the evening.

The next day, Saturday, the First Classmen received their Class Rings; we celebrated receiving these cherished pieces of jewelry that evening at the annual Ring Dance. The jovous evening held a touch of sadness for us, as we realized that half of our senior year had passed. The weekend was brought to a very impressive climax on Sunday night as the Corps and faculty heard the second Band and Glee Club Concert of the year.

CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

The trumpets sounded with an array of color. The 1959 version of the annual Christmas Pageant was again presented for the enjoyment of the Corps of Cadets and their guests. From the opening carols by the choir to the processions of the kings, shepherds and church groups the corps was held in reverent fascination as the pageantry of the birth of Christ was re-enacted.

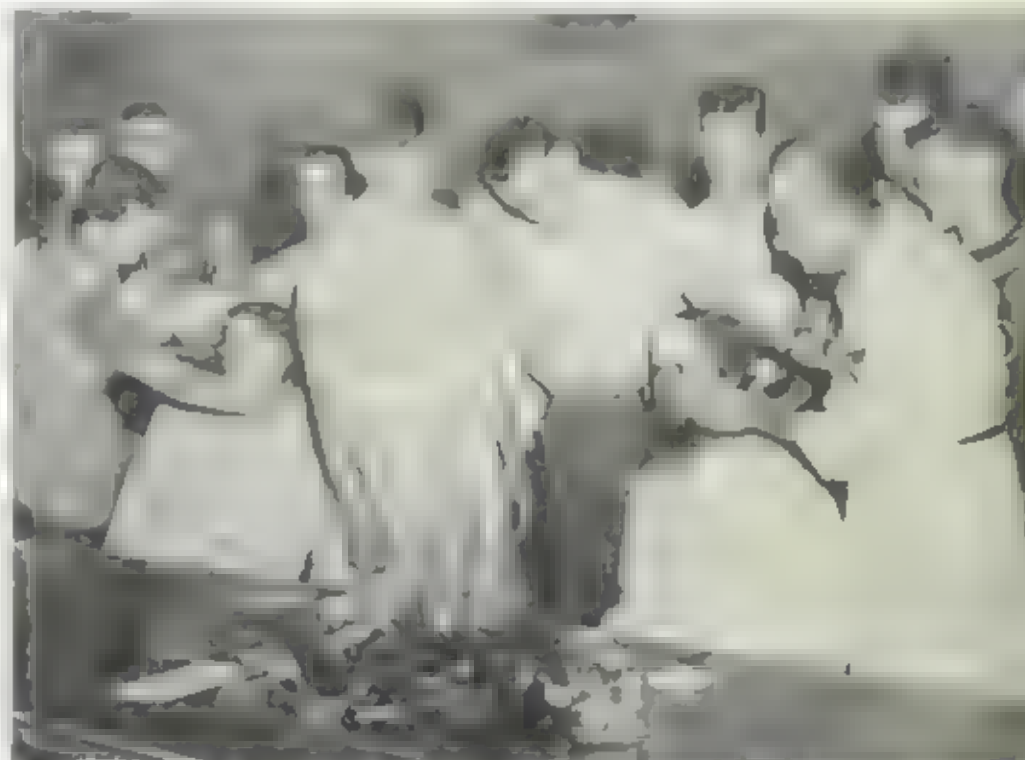

The laborous preparation for the Pageant was under the direction of Captain Rosi, who sent out a call for interested members of the Corps. With a cast of over two hundred, there were numerous positions for all who were truly interested and willing to forego some of their leisure time and talent to make the beautiful and religious ceremony the success it always is.

The Christmas Pageant of 1959 served as a reminder to the Corps of the real meaning of Christmas its beautiful simplicity has never been paramounted for its effect on the players and audiences who have observed it.

The long anticipated day finally arrived and by 10:00 A.M. on December 17, all 950 cadets had departed on Christmas Leave.

PASS IN REVIEW Winter

Christmas leave passed entirely too quickly, and before we realized it, it was time to return to the Academy. The Corps arrived on Monday, January 4th, satisfied and well rested from the vacation and eager to resume once more their various roles as members of the Corps of Cadets.

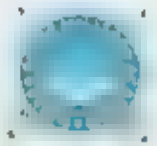

We of the First Class, less than a week after our return to the Academy, faced what were possibly our most important exams of the year: College Boards. On January 9th we entered Shannon Hall and labored through three hours of grueling tests. We emerged at noon, tired but relieved, and in high hopes that our efforts would be rewarded by high scores and college acceptance.

The next event in the busy schedule of the First Class was the Alumni Dinner. Held on Tuesday, January 12th, it proved to be a very informal, friendly gathering of Alumni and First Classmen. The evening was highlighted by very informative talks by the members of the Alumni Association, in which we received some very useful knowledge concerning college and later life. Three days later, we attended our third forum lecture on Democracy. In it, Commander Kelly spoke on whom he considered to be the six most outstanding presidents in American history, and how they exemplified the principles of democracy.

Starting the winter social season at the Forge was the Infantry Battalion Ball on January 16th. The cadets at the ball took special pride in it, knowing that it was the first of many dances to be held in the ballroom of our new Student Union Building. The following Thursday, the cadets of the Junior College attended their second Junior College dinner. Two days later,

Two weeks later, on February 4th, the Corps was treated to a concert by the Temple University Diamond Band, conducted by Mr. Henry C. Smith. Mr. Smith also holds the solo trombone position in the Philadelphia Orchestra. It was an excellent concert, and everyone agreed that it was an afternoon well spent. The following Saturday evening, the cadets of the Mounted Battalion held the Mounted Battalion Ball in the ballroom of Mellon Hall.

The Junior College cadets encountered their mid-year exams on February 10th, 11th and 12th. Upon completing the exams they along with the First Classmen, Gold Star, Silver Star, and Superintendent's Award cadets, went on a weekend leave.

The theme of this year's Oratorical Contest was "Famous Scenes from American Literature." It was held on February 19th; the winning contestant was Charles Halstead of "D" Troop Second and third places were taken by Anthony Smith of the Band and Edward Koster of C Company, respectively. The following Sunday afternoon, the Corps attended its third Band and Glee Club concert of the year. This one was a special treat; the program being augmented by the Mount Vernon Seminary Glee Club, conducted by Madam Leda Broadenova.

VFMA had the honor and privilege of acting as host to the National Freedoms Foundation on February 22nd for their annual awards presentation. The Corps had a regimental review in honor of the many guests, including Mr. William Brucker and General Lemnitz.

The AWLG Dance was held in the Mellon Hall ballroom on February 27th. The following Friday, March 4th, the First Class and JC's attended their fourth forum lecture on Democracy. Commander Kelly returned to give us an idea concerning the judicial procedure followed in a murder trial.

Saturday morning, March 5th, marked an important innovation in the ROTC training of the Corps. An elaborate obstacle course was set up on the post; we entered it in high spirits and, through six inches of snow, merrily competed with our fellow cadets to see who would complete the course in the least amount of time.

During the afternoon of March 8th, the Junior College, First and Second Class cadets were offered an afternoon of informational conferences concerning our future careers. We owe our thanks to Major Everard Nicholson, Director of Guidance and Miss Allene Stearns, Alumni Secretary for their many hours of planning in making this first Career Conference a success. Many former members of the Valley Forge Alumni gave of their time to discuss qualifications necessary to meet the heavy demands in several professions which we as future graduates look forward to entering.

The next Saturday was an important one for the cadets of the First Class. Some took the morning session of the College Board Exams; most participated in the afternoon program. This was our last important step toward a college career. That same evening, the cadets of the Junior College attended their second dance.

Second term exams for the cadets of the high school took place on March 15th, 16th, and 17th. We entered Shannon Hall confidently after much preparation, and, upon completion of the three-day exam period we embarked on our eleven day Spring Leave.

nual Dunaway Debate. The Patrick Henry Forensic Society presented one of the most interesting debates ever heard by the Corps. "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Substantially Increase its Regulation of Labor Unions." This highly controversial topic was supported very admirably by the affirmative team, composed of Cadets King and Schantz. The negative team, Cadets Lumby and Smith, did an equally magnificent job.

Saturday morning, April 2, was an important day for those Cadets enrolled in MS&T, 5 and 6; that was the date of their test of many years of military training. The test was composed of taking a squad of men through a series of maneuvers against an aggressor team. They were graded on their ability to control men and keep their heads in dangerous situations. The following Sunday, April 3, the Cadet Choir made its annual trip to the Church of St. Thomas in New York City. Monday, the fourth, was the date of the final competition for the Manual of Arms Efficiency Patch.

The Publications Dinner was held on Thursday evening April 7, in the beautifully prepared Cadet Mess Hall. After a thoroughly enjoyable dinner, the Editors of the Legionnaire and the Crossed Sabres announced the Cadets on each respective editorial staff to receive membership in the Quill and Scroll Society; the editors, in turn, were presented with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association Medal.

In the spring of each year, the Patrick Henry Forensic Society sponsors the Invitational Debate; the debating teams of fifteen neighboring schools are invited to attend a series of debates on various topics. This year's debate proved to be very exciting, and we were kept in suspense to the very last on the outcome of the tabulation of points.

One of our most beautiful and highly respected traditions at the Forge is that of giving each cadet in the Corps a period of fifteen minutes during Holy Week to sit alone in the Cadet Chapel and meditate or pray. It was jealously guarded this year, as almost every cadet in the Corps, regardless of his own personal religious affiliation, attended his own period of personal devotion.

Thursday, April 14, was a special day for the Corps; at the end of the day's classes, we embarked on a four day Easter Weekend. To the best of us, this was our last time at the Forge; the next time we would leave our Alma Mater; it would be with diploma in hand. We returned on Monday with graduation very close at hand. The next six weeks, our last as members of the Corps, were filled with excitement. The parade season was at its height, and each fully scheduled week held new experiences.

The annual Awards Convocation took place on April 30. At this time, all awards and medals were presented for individual achievement during the year in the various fields of academics and military. On Sunday, May 1, General Baker presented the Order of Anthony Wayne to the most meritorious cadets in the Corps.

New Innovation: Cadets study foreign language through modern surroundings of electronics. The New Language Lab.

The cadets of the Junior College attended their third and final dinner of the year April 21, the eve of the Government Inspection. This year, as always, the Corps was at its best, and we retained our extremely high standing in the National R.O.T.C. Honor School Competition. The next evening, the Varsity Club held its annual spring dance. On the following Thursday the Corps acted as host to the veterans of the 111th Infantry Regiment. Their day was highlighted by a regimental review and an officers' mess in their honor.

diary attended a special Chapel service and a gymkhana show in the afternoon. One of our more exciting weekends is known as Alumni Home-coming. Taking place on May 21 this year, it was a huge success; we welcomed graduates, both recent and older members of the Long Line of Gray, and many old friendships were renewed.

Final examinations began on Tuesday; this time they were really finals. They continued until Thursday. Upon completing their exams the underclassman departed for the summer leaving us alone on the campus to reflect upon our years' accomplishments at the Forge. Our revenue was short however, as our own families and girls began to arrive. That evening was our Graduation Ball. The gay evening held an undertone of excitement as we eagerly anticipated the following day's activities.

Our big day finally arrived! The Class day exercises and laying up of the colors passed quickly. Almost before we knew it, commencement was over, and we were leaving the Forge for the last time. Our faces were happy, but our hearts were filled with remorse; never again would we proudly wear our uniforms, march in the long line of gray.

*The lights are dimmed, the bugle sounds
The notes we'll ne'er forget
And now a group of smiling lads
We part with much regret
Goodbyes are said: we march ahead,
Success we go to find
Our forms are gone from Valley Forge
Our hearts are left behind*

As we Junior College cadets returned to the Academy this fall, the beauty of our new separate campus once again enveloped our thoughts. For the new members of our classes the splendid facilities of the classrooms in the Robinson Mansion proved quite fascinating. Attending college in such surroundings was indeed a pleasure. With these pleasant surroundings, it made putting forth our best, both academically and militarily, more deserved than ever before.

Under the experienced supervision of our Dean, Colonel Carne, we feel we had a successful year in all phases of our college and military life. With our increased enrollment it was apparent that our improving college program and the continued high standards of leadership by the Junior College cadets were an indication of the purposeful attitude held by its personnel.

With the close of summer, the Corps returned to its home away from home to again settle down to another year of hard work in the class room, the athletic field and the drill field. Many old friendships were again reopened.

This year meant much to us as a class, for it opened a completely new perspective of what was to come. With the opening of the class lounges in Mellon Hall, the class was drawn closer together. Here many hours were spent in discussing what was in store for us in both this year and the next. We began to realize that to us would be intrusted the leadership of the Corps at the close of next summer's vacation.

The meaning of education became upmost in our minds. The time had come to begin preparing in earnest for college, although in the beginning of the year college had seemed rather far off. In the class room we covered everything from Chaucer in the original to Newton's Laws. Under the fine guidance of the Academic Department, the class prepared for College Board Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Examination.

With the powerful training of the Tactical Department and the cadet officers, next year should show a fine group to lead us militarily.

This was a big year for the third classmen. After returning from summer vacation, we seriously realized the importance of good grades. We began preparing for our new curriculum which started immediately upon our arrival. We were to experience the solving of complex theorems and postulates in geometry, the dissections of animals in biology, the study of ancient happenings in world history, and the translation of Caesar in Latin. We also intensified our studies in English where we learned the complexity of grammar and gained new skills in the writing of themes and book reports. When the star list came out in January and April many happy faces were seen around the campus, for a feeling of self accomplishment and academics was earned within this group of ambitious cadets.

With the dedication of Mellon Hall in November, we found ourselves presented with a class lounge that could be used daily for enjoyable hours, social conversation, and quiet study.

The "Rope" came out in January, deciding our military standing for future years. This, along with the permanent Make List, showed possible rank to be awarded to us in future years.

The sensation of starting anew was ever present from the first day that the new cadets of the fourth class arrived. Ahead of us was the period of processing under the supervision of the plebe detail. The feeling of bewilderment was present in many of us for those first few weeks. Then classes began and things settled down into a more routine program. As the picture cleared, our enthusiasm mounted in the classroom, on the drillfield, and out on the athletic field. We did our best to make our fourth class the most prominent in Academy history.

On our first day of classes, we started our study of grammatical principles in English, our first course of algebra, and the interesting field of general science. We were introduced to a preview of a foreign language, and our first course in Military Science and Tactics proved to be very useful.

We certainly found ourselves busy in the ensuing months, but we still found time to take part in intramural teams and in Friday night clubs and organizations. We found ourselves busier than at any other time in our lives, but somehow it seemed worthwhile, for we were also a lot happier.

THE CORPS

The Anthony Wayne Legion Guard

The Anthony Wayne Legion Guard was founded by the Superintendent in 1934 to serve as the honor guard of the Academy. It is composed of the most outstanding cadets in each rank category of the Corps. Originally its membership included only cadet officers and non-commissioned officers, but in 1951 the basis of selection was altered to permit worthy cadets in all ranks to compete for the coveted appointments. Final selections are based on military, academic, and disciplinary merit.

The current honor guard is composed of Headquarters AWLG, the AWLG Rifles, the AWLG Dragoons, and the AWLG Gunners. As a distinctive insignia members of the Guard wear a fourragere and a shield on the dress uniform. Throughout the academic year the AWLG provides guards of honor for all distinguished guests of the Academy and presents formal guard mountings and special ceremonies in the spring of the year. Each year the members of the Guard hold a formal dance to commemorate the organization of the new Guard.

Though it is a relatively new unit, Headquarters Company has established a high position and fine reputation in the Corps. This year, under the able leadership of Robert Stout, company commander, and Major Richard M. Artz, tactical officer, Headquarters Company has forged ahead again, as in years passed, to set a high standard to be followed by the rest of the Corps.

The Company, made up of the majority of Junior College cadets in the Corps, has proven itself to be a fine example for the secondary school to follow. Being composed of older cadets, the company has been accorded more privileges, combining the military life with a taste of college. All of this has combined to make this year one to be long remembered by the members of "Hq." The Corps will long remember this year and the fine example set by the Junior College men, who played an integral part in making this Corps the finest yet.

Capt. Quinn.

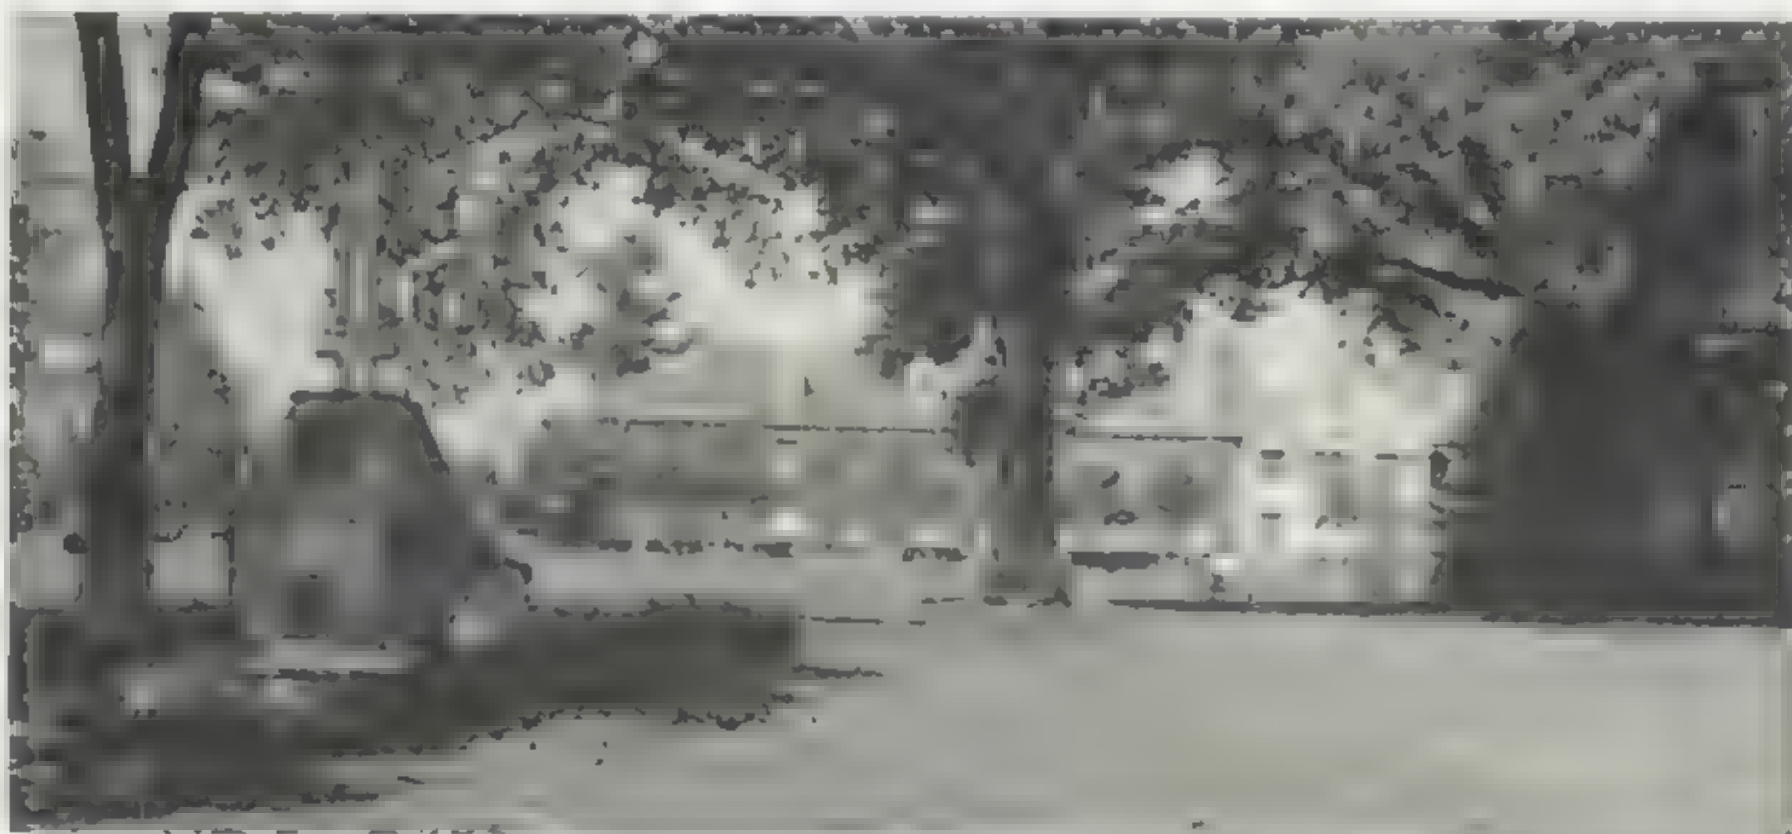

With the end of another year, "A" Company can look back at an enviable record. This past year "A" held true to its motto "A" leads the way." Under the capable leadership of the cadet officers and Captain Harry M. Krause and Captain Leonard T. Quinn, our Tactical Officer and Company Guidance Officer respectively, the Company completed a well-rounded program of academic, athletic, and military achievement.

This past year the company doubled its strength, and although in new surroundings, it continued to advance the hallowed traditions of "A," just the same. This was due to the fine esprit de Corps and unity strived for between the cadet officers, non-commissioned officers, and other members of the Company. Many "A" Company faces showed bright on the Star Lists, A.W.L.G., intramural sports, and other varied activities of the Corps.

The graduating class will long remember with pride the fine quality of work achieved by this year's company.

Stately Hamilton Hall is the home of all "A" Company cadets.

Platoon Sergeant	Captain Stanley A. Harris

Guidance Counselor
Capt. Buckwalter

Honor, personal integrity, and loyalty to the services, customs, and traditions of Valley Forge make the men of "B" Company the finest in the Corps of Cadets. Part of the mission of the Academy is to teach all cadets to conduct themselves in the proper manner and to eliminate all those from this training who cannot or will not conduct themselves accordingly.

This year under the guidance of Captain Stanley A. Harris we are sure to eliminate the "cannot" and "will not" clauses from the standards of conduct. To back up Captain Harris, this year we have had the best officers and senior N.C.O.'s in the Academy. Our company commander this year is Cadet Captain Carl "Otto" Keil. Mr. Keil in his own right has achieved many plateaus in the Valley Forge ladder. His officers were Cadet First Lieutenant Ford Stevens, First Lieutenant Paul Amarando, and Second Lieutenants John Carter, Frank Williams, and Bob Shapiro. The backbone of the company consists of Cadet First Sergeant C. W. Shantz; Platoon Sergeants Weaver, Stroud, Bergman, and Ross; Supply Sergeant Joseph D. Formisano; and Staff Sergeants Succa and Busacca.

Washington Hall is the attractive barracks of "B" Company.

Guidance Counselor

Another year passes again and we hear the sound of "C" is the Best!" echoing in our ears. "C" has once again proved itself to be one of the best companies on the post.

The men of "C" have, as in time past, met their challenges and overcome them. Academically "C" has displayed many honor students, and intramurally has surpassed records set in passed years.

Under the leadership and guidance of our tactical officer, Captain Paul B. Snyder, our guidance officer, Major John A. Romine, and the cadet officers, "C" Company has striven for and attained the best. This best shows forth on and off the parade field, as well as in and out of barracks. Every "C" Company cadet lives with and for his fellow cadets in the friendly atmosphere of Martin Hall Barracks. An observer sees and hears cadets having a good time.

The cadet officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates have all worked hard to do their parts in bringing "C" to its present standing. The cadets of "C" can look back on this year's good times and see a year well worth remembering.

C. Company's Martin Hall is a fitting tribute to a great statesman.

"G" Company was originally formed in 1944. Even in its first year it was apparent that "G" was destined to be famous. In its second year "G" Company led the corps in athletics and was considered one of the best all round companies. The company's third year was a year of great progress, but due to the fact that the Corps became smaller, the company was retired.

"G" Company's next appearance came in 1957. Under excellent leadership, the company continued the fine standards set in previous years by winning the intramural championship of the Corps and by placing high in company competition. In '58-'59 "G" reached the ultimate goal of every company when she won the best-company banner.

Why is "G" Company the best? It is best because it has always worked as a team. It is a company coached by two excellent leaders: Major William Lowe and Cadet Captain Howard Turner. By their excellent training, "G" was unsurpassed.

"D" Troop combines the old of the horse cavalry with the new of the armored cavalry to make a unit unique in the Corps of Cadets at Valley Forge. While the members of the most colorful organization keep pace with the cadets of the corps in the classroom, in infantry drill, and on the playing field, they go one step further and establish their fine reputation by their excellence in horsemanship and vehicle training. Although the Troop is smaller than most other units in the corps, Troopers belong to an organization that is one of the busiest and most demanding. The end of each year sees the graduation of cadets who proudly wear the boots and breeches of the cavalry and who are among the most versatile in the Corps. Any cadet entering the Corps or who is already a member of the Corps and has an interest in the cavalry is eligible to join the Troop. In doing so, he joins the ranks of a unit which sets its sights on perfection in everything it does.

This year the Battery has continued to grow in size and eminence with the "old men" forming a solid core from which our plebe class has learned and prospered, giving even greater promise for next year.

The Battery, though basically a high school company, has the largest junior college representation outside of Headquarters Company. These men form an integral part of the Battery set-up and still retain the privileges of the Junior College.

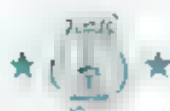

In the many extra tasks assigned the Battery, such as convoy duty for M.S.&T. weekend, we have done our duty with a dispatch that is both enthusiastic and professional. Our work has been enlightened continually by activities such as a trip to an antique car museum, and visits to various automobile assembly plants, Nike sights and other exciting places.

Academically the Battery is holding its own, having a good representation on the Star List, and with eleven men in the Choir and an enthusiastic representation in most of the extra-curricular activities, the Battery has been on the top.

The Battery is quartered in magnificent Hamilton Hall.

High points throughout the year included the annual trip to the Harrisburg Horse Show and the series of concerts which once again drew large crowds of music lovers. An added feature this year was the trip to the Royal Military College of Canada. The Band made the trip in answer to an invitation extended by the Commandant of the college. They presented a concert and participated in a regimental review in honor of General Baker, who also made the trip. The cadets of the college held a dance for the Band as a farewell gesture.

Another innovation this year was the "Valley Forge Marching Song" written by Mr. Stuart Lockheim, President of the Philadelphia Academy of Music. This march was introduced by the Band; the Glee Club sang the lyrics, drawing a large ovation at each presentation.

One of the most important days in the recent history of the Academy found the Band again right in the middle of activities. This was, of course, the dedication of Mellon Hall. With many dignitaries present, including General Matthew B. Ridgway and Major General Richard K. Mellon, the Band had quite a busy day. Among their activities were a chapel parade followed by a regimental review, a luncheon concert, and the dedication itself later in the afternoon.

The Band barracks enjoys an unusually attractive setting on the campus.

The National Honor Society

The Eric Fisher Wood Chapter of the National Honor Society this year observes its tenth anniversary as an active campus organization. This very select organization was chartered on April 5, 1950, and since that date has actively promoted the cultivation of its four cardinal principles: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. To be selected as a member of this Honor Society is, rightly considered, the highest academic honor that Valley Forge can bestow.

Candidates are carefully selected for membership on the basis of the aforementioned qualities. Scholarship is, of course, the necessary qualification; but the accompanying demands of character, leadership, and service are also carefully considered.

This year the local chapter embarked on a program to make itself a more active organization than had been the case in previous years. It was thought that in this way the Society could play a more effective part in campus life, not merely rest upon its laurels by considering honor without its attendant responsibilities.

To further this aim, the activities of the chapter included a symposium meeting to inquire into the deeper meanings of one of its principles: character. A combined meeting with Phi Theta Kappa, the Junior College Honorary Society, featured a guest speaker, Dr. Fred Ford of the University of Pennsylvania.

The Honor Council

The Cadet Honor Code belongs to the Corps of cadets, and it is the responsibility of each and every cadet to uphold and maintain it. This is made possible only by a strong sense of pride and integrity on the part of every cadet. Under the code, the word of any cadet is accepted as the truth.

The Honor Council is made up of fourteen cadets selected each year by the Superintendent. It is their duty to ~~insure~~ ~~insure~~ the Corps is fully informed with an understanding and appreciation of the purpose strived for by the honor code. They also act as a group to try all offenders of the code.

"A cadet shall not lie, cheat, or steal, nor shall he tolerate same."

These are the respected words used as the guiding principles of these officers and cadets, and only through complete adherence to these principles can the honor system survive.

The Board of Governors

With the rapidly growing Corps of Cadets planning and providing an adequate program of extra-curricular activities is no small task. Captain Douglass, our newly appointed Director of Activities, is responsible for much of the planning pertaining to our activities, while other members of the faculty serve as advisors for every club and organization on the Campus. The Board of Governors serves to represent the Corps in the planning and programming of these activities.

The Board, consisting of fifteen cadets from the senior class, is selected annually by the Superintendent to serve for the entire academic year. These members are subdivided into smaller committees to more readily facilitate the various recreational activities. It is not uncommon for members of the Board to frequently attend meetings of the honor societies, clubs, movies and athletic events to receive first hand knowledge of the many kinds of activities available to the Corps. As there is at least one member of the Board of Governors in each company, cadets are encouraged to make suggestions for the improvement and addition of the recreational activities.

The Phi Theta Kappa Society

As a reward for the proficiency and excellency displayed in academics, Valley Forge cadets are authorized to wear gold or silver stars, depending upon scholastic average. Junior College cadets with stars are also permitted to be inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society, Delta Epsilon Chapter.

The purpose of this Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in cadets of the Junior College. Membership in this chapter is active and honorary, and is based on scholarship, good moral character and recognized qualities of citizenship as judged by the Dean and faculty of the Junior College and by the active members of the Chapter. Candidates in the Delta Epsilon Chapter must have spent at least one semester in the Junior College. The minimum achievement level for admission as determined by the national organization is a scholastic average of "B." Military Science and Tactics is also included in this scholastic average.

Phi Theta Kappa has as its planned program this year the subject of how to help stimulate intellectual development in the Junior College.

The Secondary School Gold Star Cadets

The Gold Star cadets of the secondary school have been awarded their distinctive stars for academic averages of 90 per cent with no subject below 85 per cent. Silver stars represent a general academic average of 85 per cent or better with no subject lower than 80 per cent.

The winners of these stars have contributed to the Academy in all scholastic fields. They have proven themselves equally proficient in the many activities and athletics offered by the Academy. Their academic excellence is supplemented by their versatility in other fields. Cadets who earn the Gold Star are entitled to several privileges, including several weekends and a weekly leave of absence on Wednesday afternoons. The distinctive star worn on the lower sleeve of the dress and full dress uniforms is indeed a well-deserved tribute to the students who earn them.

We of Valley Forge are proud of the cadets whose names appear on the Gold and Silver Star List, for they are living proof that young men can be superior in their studies while facing the tremendous challenge of a military environment.

The Alumni Association

The objectives of the Alumni Association are to aid in the development and perpetuation of the Valley Forge Military Academy, assist in the promotion of its academic and cultural life as well as its natural interests and influence, and promote acquaintance among Academy alumni, as well as a mutually beneficial relationship between the Academy and its Alumni. The Board of Directors is the policy-making body of the association. The board authorized the following functions to be held during the current year of 1959-1960: a Seminar to be conducted by members of the alumni for the first class of the secondary school and the junior college and eight area districts. The Pittsburgh Area was granted the first chapter Charter. Six publications of The Forge were printed this year. A dinner to members of the graduating class was held on January 12, 1960. Homecoming was scheduled for May 21, 1960. The project for the annual Alumni Fund drive this year had as its goal the installation of a language laboratory. Our Alumni Association will increase in number by approximately 256 graduates this year. Cadet awards were given to 16 plebes during the current year. The new quarters for the Alumni Association is in Mellon Hall and an invitation is extended to all members of the faculty and staff to visit whenever possible to promote good public relations.

The Quill and Scroll Society

In 1926 the Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for High School Journalists was organized. Chapters of the society may be found in high schools, public and private, throughout the country, whose membership is given as a reward for individual achievement in journalism and school publications. The Academy's local chapter is named in honor of Cadet Allen W. Rucker. Cadet Maximilian J. B. Welker, the president; Cadet C. O. Keil, and Alexander C. Gellman were members from the previous year, and the rest of the members were inducted at the Publications Dinner held this spring. The induction service was conducted by Lt. Col. Esrev, the advisor. The members of the Quill and Scroll have taken an extra interest in the school publications, and through their efforts the exemplary qualities of the yearbook, the Crossed Sabres, and the school newspaper, The Legionnaire, are made evident

The Cadet Advisory Council

In April, 1946, there was established an organization known as the Cadet Advisory Council. Membership consists of one representative from each platoon in the Infantry and Mounted Battalions and one from the Band. Elections are held in the Fall of each year, each member being elected by popular vote among his fellow cadets.

The Council is governed in its constitution and by-laws. The constitution states as its purpose "To recommend to the Superintendent improvements and innovations." The Council's objectives are set up in the interests of a better Academy and Corps of Cadets

The Advisory Council takes into consideration any suggestions brought before them at their meetings. The President appoints committees to investigate these suggestions, and they discuss them and put them up to be voted on. If passed, they go on to the Superintendent for his personal approval. Under the fine supervision of their advisor, Colonel Andrew Weidener, the Council has made many fine recommendations to improve the facilities in the Academy. The Advisory Council is the only organization in the Corps having direct contact with the Superintendent

The Order of Anthony Wayne

This, the Academy's highest award, was literally "born in fire." It was established on January 18, 1929, when the original campus of Valley Forge Military Academy was completely destroyed by fire. The heroism of the cadets at this moment, along with their excellent training and discipline, inspired the Superintendent to establish this highly coveted award.

The Order of Anthony Wayne is awarded "to those cadets, who in the opinion of the members of the Order, have achieved the standards of qualifications for which the Order stands; namely, efficiency, high ideals, and untiring efforts above and beyond the call of duty, contributing substantially to the morale, esprit de corps, and progress of the Valley Forge Military Academy, and exemplifying the best traditions of the military service."

On November 8, General Richard K. Mellon was the first of this year to receive the honor at the Mellon Hall dedication ceremonies. He was later followed by the cadets and members of the faculty who earned the honor. These cadet and faculty officers were rewarded for their outstanding service to the Academy at this spectacular annual chapel service held in May.

The Baron Von Steuben Society

This society is the local chapter of the Association of the United States Army. It is made up of thirty cadets who are outstanding in military duties, leadership, and in their Military Science and Tactics courses.

The organization does not permit cadets to submit an application, but selects them. The cadets then submit military letters on why they want to be in the Association. After the letters have been submitted they are reviewed by the members, who choose the most qualified applicants, after which there is a formal induction.

The Baron Von Steuben Military Society is a very active society. It has gone on many trips throughout the year to places such as Willow Grove Naval Base, the Philadelphia Naval Yard, and the Valley Forge Nike Sight. They have attended different lectures and movies giving information and discussion on the military profession. The society also saw movies on the latest and most modern developments of modern warfare.

The Army Aviation Club

This year the Army Aviation Club completed its second successful year under the capable leadership of its faculty advisor, Captain Paul B. Snyder, and the club's president, Merle Erbs. Captain Snyder, a regular licensed pilot, has provided the club with much information concerning up-to-date methods of flying.

This year the club was enlarged with an enthusiastic group of new members. These cadets were elected to membership by the charter members of the club.

One of the highlights of the past year was a trip to McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. A guided tour by an officer of the base included a visit to everything from the many hangars to the coffee shop.

The members of the club strive to uphold its motto, "to provide its members with a knowledge of aviation by means of educational and social activities."

Crossed Sabres

It takes a full year to publish a yearbook, and here at Valley Forge work began in our new publications office in Mellon Hall as soon as the school year was under way. Near the end of the year it is a major event to look forward to the receiving of your yearbook, the product of thousands of hours of work by many people. Every member of the staff is proud of this storehouse of memories, this lasting record of all significant academic, military, athletic, and extra-curricular activities. It is a book to be proud of, and will provide many fine enjoyable moments throughout the years for members of this year's graduating class.

Co-editors Bob Bridgers and Max Welker head the book this year, assisted by Dwight Raymond, Associate Editor. They planned, directed, and supervised the work of the staff, handling all administrative duties. Captain J. Raymond Berry advised the staff this year for the first time; and though new to the position, he has done an excellent job.

The Crossed Sabres has been affiliated with the National Scholastic Press Association and the International Quill and Scroll Society for several years, and last year the book was awarded First Place by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

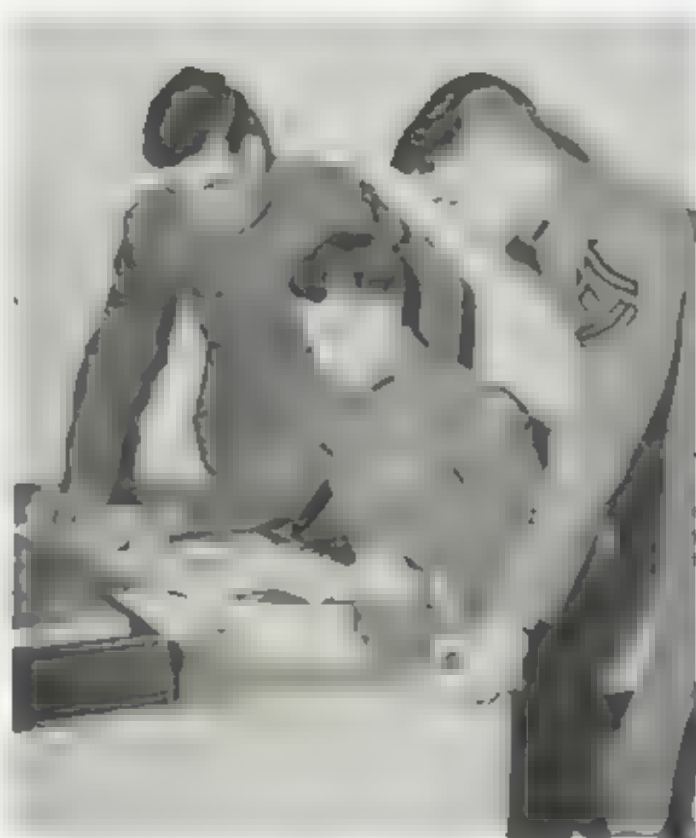

Advisor and Editor: Captain Berry congratulates Cadet Bridgers on receiving the Columbia Scholastic Press Medal.

Legionnaire

Working on the Legionnaire

Of the many important activities at Valley Forge, the publication of the Legionnaire is certainly the most anxiously awaited by both cadets and the faculty.

The rolling of the presses and the appearance of the galleys are signs that our ambitious Editor-in-Chief Carl Keil is on hand. Through long hours of hard work, he brought new vigor to the historical record of this year's Corps of Cadets. Assignment sheets and makeup of the paper occupied the time of Managing Editor, Ed Koster. The midnight oil was burned constantly by Feature Editor Carl Schantz and Sports Editor Jay Stroud as they fought deadlines of copy collecting and making heads for each issue. News coverage was amply provided by the news staff headed by Ron Jacobs. Timely and readable features, with special emphasis on academic, military and athletics activities, were the job of Copy Editor Walter Becker. In his first year as faculty advisor, Major James Campbell gave many long hours of his enthusiasm and loyalty to journalism to make each issue one of lasting interest to its many avid readers.

To keep informed of the latest developments in the fields of high school journalism techniques, we are active members in the Columbia and National Scholastic Press Associations and the International Quid and Scholastic Societies.

The Hop Committee

The Hop Committee worked hard this year to make the Corps Hops the successes they have been. Each company has one hop manager and one assistant who works silently but diligently from the time the cadets request invitations to be sent to their dates to the actual dance, where they give up their time to circulate through the corps to keep the hop functioning smoothly.

The managers arrange both personal and blind dates and assure themselves that invitations are sent to all their guests, and the night of the dance again give up their time to introduce the blind dates and make everyone feel welcome.

The Hop Committee works hard to make the dances events to be remembered, the only credit received being the wearing of the distinctive yellow sash and the sense of accomplishment in knowing that the dances will be remembered by all. The Corps owes a debt of thanks to Major Allen and his staff for their fine service this year.

The Cadet Chapel Vestry

During the past year the Cadet Chapel Vestry has been one of the most outstanding organizations of the Academy. In the Chapel of Saint Cornelius the Centurian, at Band and Glee Club Concerts, and other functions of the Corps, the Vestry proves its value by alert performance. Within this group are found ushers, crucifers, acolytes, and attendants whose jobs are of primary importance in helping about the beautiful services.

The Vestry's work starts long before each service begins in preparing the Chapel for its congregation of cadets, their families, and the faculty. The smooth program of these services is directly responsible to the cadets themselves—but there is a faculty vestry who are also available for assistance and counselling.

For the many activities the Vestry has, this year has been outstanding. The Vestry attended the ordainment of Colonel Elbridge Walker into priesthood. From this and many other Vestry trips and activities they gained experience and responsibility of how to carry out successful services, whether in Chapel, assemblies, or lectures.

The Acolytes Guild

Each Sunday morning at the eight o'clock and eleven o'clock services held in the Chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurian, the Acolytes serve in the stately Chapel procession. At the eight o'clock service the selected cadets of the guild serve as acolytes for the Holy Eucharist service to which all faiths are invited to attend. At the impressive eleven o'clock service they provide crucifer, altar boys, and vergers. The acolytes also serve in other church functions such as the Christmas Vespers, Christmas Pageant, special church occasions, and outside organizations that hold special services in the Chapel.

The cadets who comprise this Guild are from many religious faiths. They give of their free time, two days a week, to attend practices held by the Chaplain, Father Walker. At these practices the new members are taught how to serve in the early morning service and the many other duties of the Acolytes. Each new member, after learning his duties, may choose the duty he prefers. The Acolytes hold weekly meetings every Tuesday evening.

The Choir

Each week this year the impressive chapel service held at the Academy was enhanced by the presence of the Cadet Choir under the fine direction of Captain Robert V. Woodside. Throughout the academic year the Choir rehearsed diligently the various anthems which were so well thought of by each member of the Corps.

In addition to the services held at the Academy, the Choir also made several appearances at churches in the surrounding area. These appearances included services held at Sharon Hill in December, the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, and Messiah Lutheran Church, both in January; and the Arch Street Presbyterian Church in February. The most important services were held at Saint Thomas Church, New York City, and Christ Church and Saint Michaels, Germantown, Pennsylvania.

Early in November the Choir began rehearsing for the two Christmas services held each year, the Christmas Vesper Service and the Christmas Pageant. Working during much of their free time, the cadets produced what was one of the most beautiful Vesper Services and one of the most impressive Pageants ever held at the Academy.

The Glee Club

The Valley Forge Glee Club is formed every year from the members of the Cadet Choir. They provide the lighter side of the vocal entertainment at the Forge.

Practicing every Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, they learn and rehearse the songs for the year's program. Their repertoire is made up of show tunes and popular numbers adopted for men's voices. Their selections are organized by Captain Robert V. Woodside, the Glee Club's music director, assisted by Cadet Nute, senior member of the Glee Club, who gives of his leadership abilities in organizational plans and details throughout the year.

The Glee Club appears regularly at Band and Glee Club Concerts and Officers Messes. This year the club traveled to several schools presenting concerts. One high point in the season was in Hackettstown, New Jersey where they sang for Centenary College. In return, several schools such as Mount Vernon Seminary from Washington, D. C., came to the Academy.

The Patrick Henry Forensic Society

It can be truthfully said that the Patrick Henry Forensic Society is one of the busiest and outstanding groups on the campus. The Society has a dual purpose: first, it presents and sponsors a wide range of activities, and second, it affords all interested cadets the opportunity to further their public speaking and debating abilities.

★ The Society had to set a fast pace to keep up with its rigid schedule during this past year. From October to January the Debate Seminar consisting of many members of the Society had to prepare its material on the national debate topic "Resolved: That the Federal Government Should Significantly Increase Its Regulation of Labor Unions." In February the Society sponsored and computed in the Annual Oratorical Contest. To try out its material for the first time the Society presented the Annual Duxbury Debate in April. In April the Society once more played host to the all-day meeting of the Ninth Annual Interscholastic Invitational Debate Tournament. In addition to the twice monthly meetings, a large delegation attended the Invitational Debate Clinic at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Stephen Foster Honor Society

The stated objectives of the Stephen Foster Society are three: to promote an appreciation of music throughout the Academy, to sponsor various musical events at the Academy, and to bring to its members an increased knowledge and appreciation of all types of music. It is interesting to note that two-thirds of its program is directed towards the Corps in general, rather than for the members themselves.

★ The Society enjoyed an active year, participating in a number of exciting programs and several trips off campus. In the fall the group attended a Strakosky concert in Philadelphia. The annual dinner meeting was held in January, followed by their attendance at the opera. In March the Society attended the Philadelphia Orchestra's regular Monday evening concert.

Membership and interest have never been problems for this organization. Applicants have always outnumbered the available vacancies in the Society, so that it continues to be possible to choose carefully from those cadets who have the requisite musical experience.

The Benjamin Franklin Honor Society

Under the guidance of Colonel Mitterling and the direction of the Society's President, Mr. Bruyr, the Benjamin Franklin Honor Society has promoted increasing interest in all phases of scientific interest throughout the campus. The Society meets every other week to discuss scientific topics and listen to speeches given by different members of the Society. Colonel Mitterling and members of the Society also give experiments for the enjoyment and instruction of the Society.

The Society elects its members because of their interest in science and their proficiency in academics. The Benjamin Franklin Honor Society keeps abreast of all the scientific developments and sees the improvements of science by making varied field trips. Since all the facilities of the Science Department are at the disposal of the Society, elaborate demonstrations are quite often at our regular by weekly meetings.

This year the Society will hold its meetings in Mellon Hall and take advantage of its spacious and comfortable surroundings. The Society has now a private club room in Mellon Hall, but it will still have to hold its experiments in the science laboratory in Shannon Hall.

The Mask and Spur Honor Society

The Mask and Spur Honor Society has endeavored in 1960 to promote the appreciation of dramatics throughout the Corps with moments of inspiring drama. Keeping in line with the Society's motto, "Ars Artis Causa," Art for Art's Sake, the members of the Mask and Spur worked diligently to make this year a complete success.

In February, Major Soto talked to us about the current Broadway season. At this meeting he presented us with a beautiful scrapbook containing the current reviews of the American theatre scene.

The society met regularly throughout the year for the reading of play scripts or for the playing of dramatic recordings. In November, 1959, the group attended the University of Pennsylvania's Players production of Agatha Christie's "The Spider Web."

The Society's continuing success is attributed to the apt and conscientious guidance of Captain Joseph A. Rosi as faculty advisor. Captain Rosi has spread influence of the Mask and Spur Dramatic Society through the Corps activities as the director and coordinator of Valley Forge's own spectacular and moving interpretation of the Christmas Pageant.

The Alexander Hamilton Forum

The Alexander Hamilton Forum, under the guidance of our new advisor, Lieutenant A. J. Oliveira, has completed another active year. This year the purpose stressed by the Forum was to stimulate and develop interest throughout the Corps in national and international affairs.

The meetings of the Forum consisted of speeches on the pros and cons of world affairs. At the conclusion of the speeches there was a question, answer, and discussion period in which the members eagerly presented their questions, opinions, and thoughts on the subject. Frequently the Forum was privileged to have guest speakers, who gave lectures on various national and international affairs.

It is the hope of the Alexander Hamilton Forum that the interest and knowledge gained by its members and the men of the Corps will be retained in later life.

The United States has been a leader of the free world since its founding. If this nation plans to remain a leader in the years to come, it will have to possess the knowledge of what goes on in the free world which it leads.

Washington Irving Literary Society

The Washington Irving Literary Society has several purposes, the most important of which is to help every member of the Corps appreciate great works in literature. One of the ways in which the Society attempts this is to produce The Sketch Book every year. Another method is to have open house meetings where a guest speaker lectures on some phase of literature.

In our meetings this year we have had as speakers Lt. Col. Esrey, Capt. Infantina, Capt. Andresen and Capt. Rost. Every one of our meetings has been extremely interesting and informative.

To be a member in this Society an applicant must have a true desire to further his own literary knowledge and that of the Corps. He must also have a good overall academic standing with above average grades in English. The applicant will then go before the Society to read a prepared selection from some selection of literature.

George Eastman Photographic Society

The George Eastman Photographic Society has as its primary purpose the instruction for the advancement of individuals in the proficiency of photographic techniques. This includes the proper methods of taking photographs, the composition of the picture, the correct darkroom procedures, and the finishing of prints for permanent record. Membership is open to all interested persons. Limitations had to be imposed because the group became too large for the darkroom facilities.

The 1940-41 program consisted of instruction in the basic fundamentals of photography from the simple physical aspects of photography and the use of the simple camera to the more complex methods of handling advanced techniques and the use of all cameras, including the press camera. This course was written for the Society by Captain Heinrich, the advisor to the Society. It included work in the darkroom, processing roll films, cutting film negatives, enlarging, and preparing the final print for display purposes.

The cadets of the Photographic Society were given assignments to cover for the Crossed Sabres and the Legionnaire.

The Audio-Visual Aids Society

The Audio-Visual Aids Society is made up of a number of cadets who have been willing to give up their free afternoons, evenings, and weekend leaves to work in assisting the Director of Audio-Visual Aids, Lieutenant John Derenzo. They provide the Corps of Cadets with movies, both for entertainment and classroom purposes, and do many other types of work, such as running the photo lab, making slides, and making films for the Corps. They also provide ceremonies, and other Corps functions. There is a group of real service to the Corps, and all are striving to provide the very best entertainment possible for the benefit of the Corps.

The society holds meetings at least once a week, during which time the president appoints members to perform the necessary assignments. Membership is open to anyone, but all applicants are carefully screened on the grounds of experience, character, and academic and military proficiency. If they are accepted by popular vote, they then are ready to assume the many responsibilities and duties.

The Society of Ruben Daria

Shortly after New Year's Day, during the 1959-1960 academic season, a new society was organized. The driving force behind its establishment was Major Miguel Soto of the Foreign Languages Department.

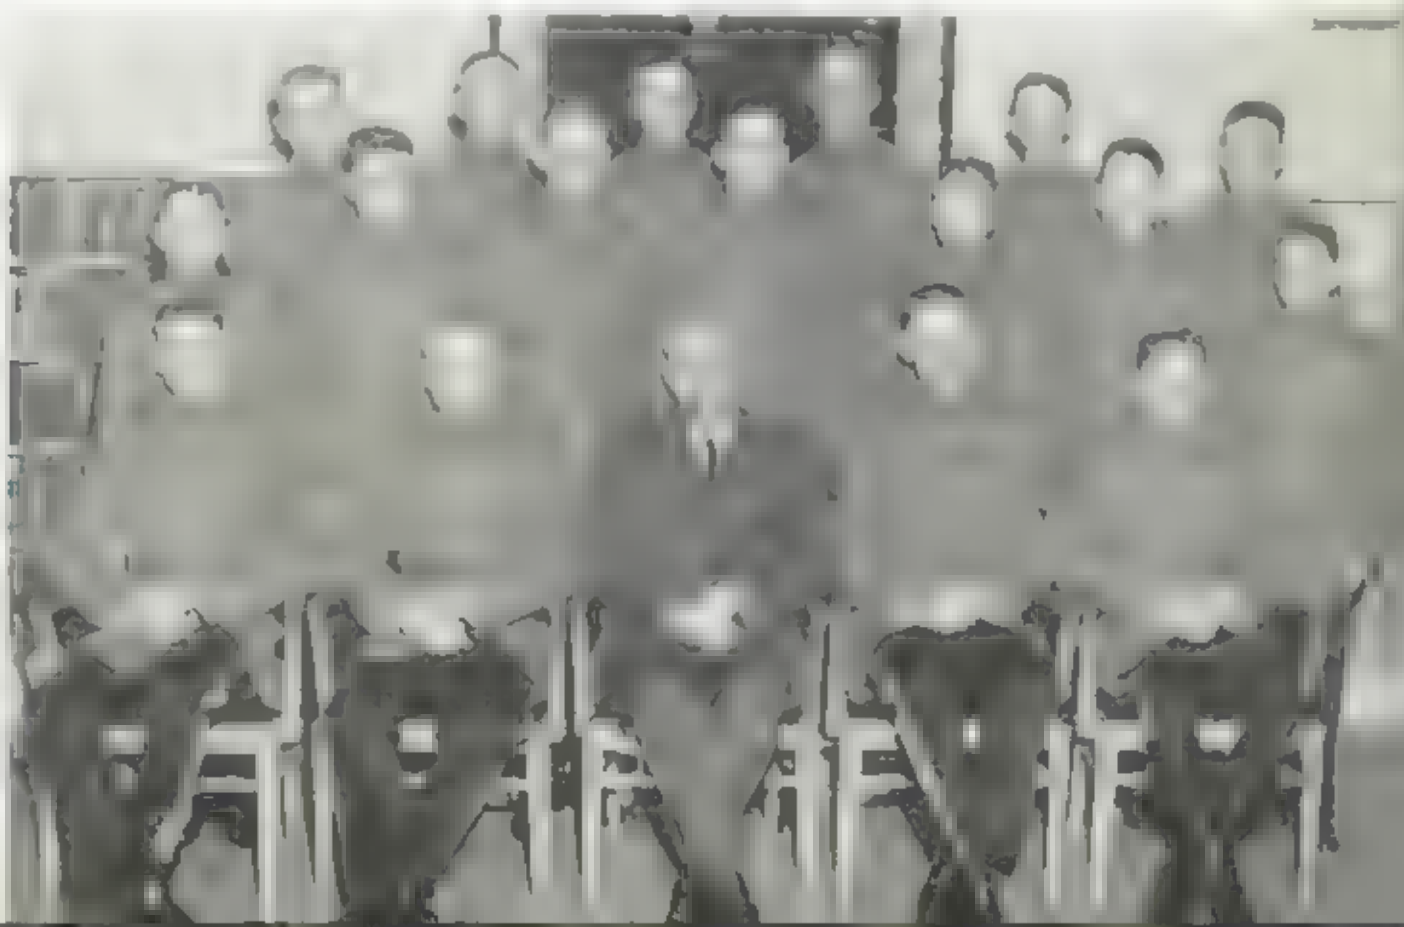

The original purpose of this Society is, through its members, to encourage the study and better understanding of the language, literature, history, customs, culture, and civilizations of the Spanish speaking peoples. The importance of this is becoming more and more evident in our world every day. In order to foster better understanding among the members themselves, there were frequent meetings, guest lectures, and visits to various institutions and places involving culture, "fiestas," and full use of the language laboratory. Meetings with similarly-engaged organizations in the Philadelphia area gave fruit to many new ideas and improvements.

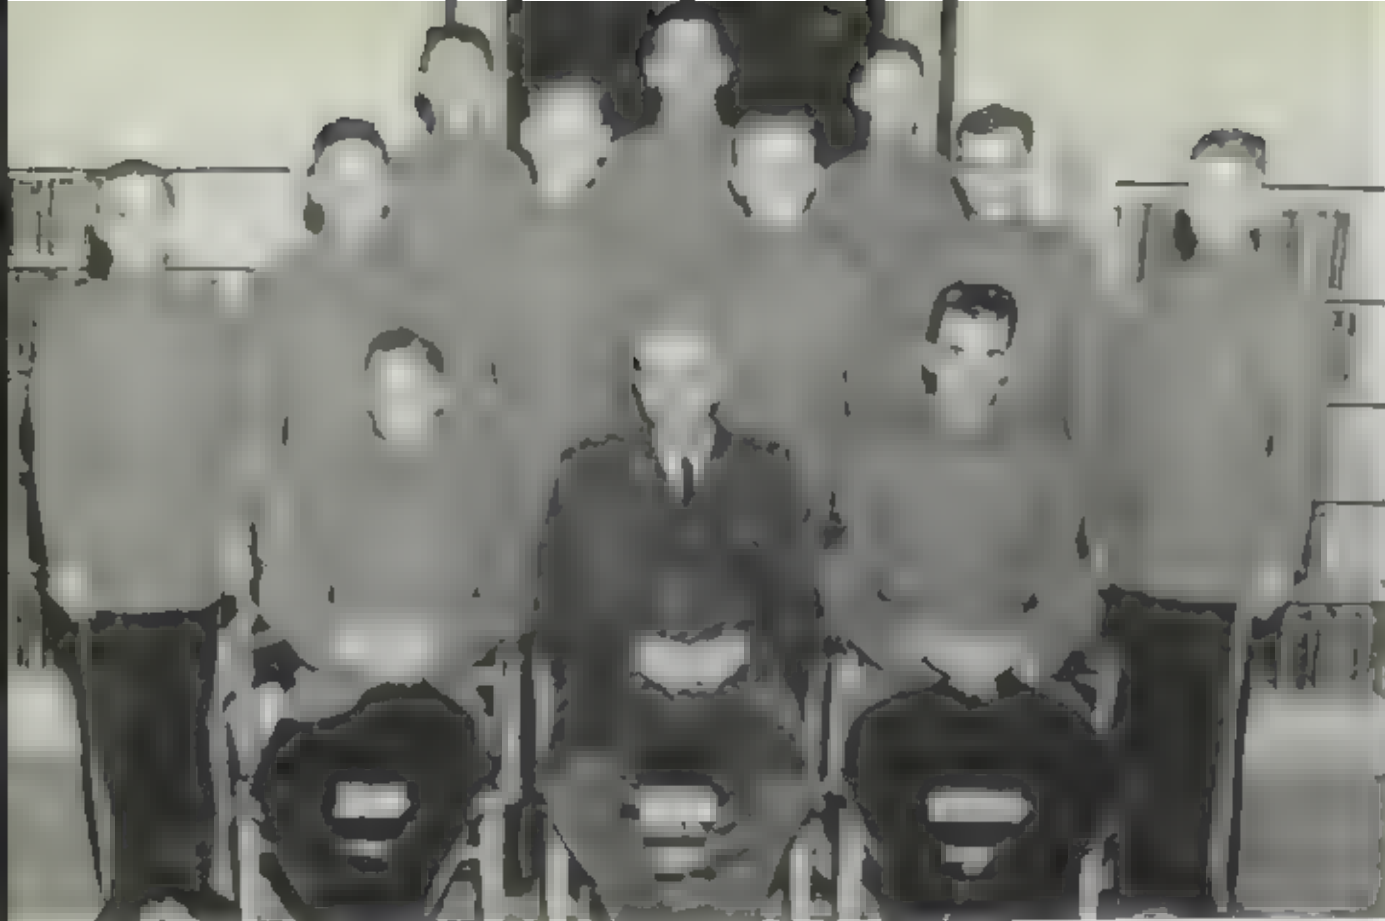

The cadets serving as officers in the Society of Ruben Daria are as follows: W. A. E. Landsberg, President; E. Aquero, Secretary; J. Perdomo, Treasurer.

This Society may be considered a steppingstone as far as educational societies are concerned. The various phases of English have been the only academic basis for membership.

The Arts and Crafts Club

Located in newly-constructed Mellon Hall, the Hobby Shop, which is the home of the Arts and Crafts Club, is available to all cadets interested in such hobbies as wood working, metal-working, plastics, ceramic and pottery making, model building, and leather tooling. While the Arts and Crafts Club usually has for its members cadets who are already experienced in one or more of these hobbies, membership is open to all cadets regardless of past experience. Cadets who would like to begin a hobby are free to join, and a limited amount of instruction will be provided for them.

The new Hobby Shop has been completely outfitted with new equipment. All woodwork can be done on new power tools which feature the latest safety devices plus the most efficient dust removal attachments available. A new kiln and potter's wheel are the center of a pottery-making section of the Shop, while a workbench and complete cabinet of supplies provide the intant leather worker with all tools necessary for leather sewing and engraving. Cadets with plastic fabrication as their hobby will be able, for the first time, to practice this art in the new Hobby Shop. The Kiln used to bake pottery is large enough to heat large pieces of plastic so that the plastic can be formed into various shapes.

The Radio Club

This year has been a big year for WVF. It has seen the culmination of three years of hard work evolve into a transmitter. Since the inception of the Station, the chief desire has been to broadcast over the air, and finally our goal has been attained.

Having moved to a more convenient and spacious location, the station was fully equipped to broadcast over the air. Our membership was increased, the basic requirement for membership being the desire to work with the members of the station for the enjoyment of the members of the corps. There are many jobs open for membership; for those who like publicity and being in the limelight, there is announcing; for the technically inclined there is engineering, plus a host of other jobs such as programming, filing, and other secretarial work. Everyone in the Corps is eligible for membership, and there are jobs enough for all.

With the station now actually broadcasting, the functioning of the job becomes even more like that of professional radio stations. Everyone has his own specific duty and performs it to the utmost. One of the most important duties is performed by our new but very capable advisor, Lt. Derenzo.

The Boat Club

Under the supervision and guidance of Lt. (jg) Benigno, this newly-formed club undertook innumerable activities, much to the pleasing of its members. Trips to the Philadelphia Boat Show and Coast Guard installations and other facets of nautical life were scheduled for this year's program.

Although the club was formed but a few months ago, its enrollment of active members surpasses any other such group of its caliber. The interests of the members vary from such fields as sailing, power boating, water skiing and skin diving, to fields such as water safety, mechanics and navigation. Through all these immediate interests all of the members agree that each meeting was interesting as well as informative.

President, Cadet Gellman was assisted by cadets Ginter, Dewey, Curtiss and Bruyr, who have all accomplished great tasks in the efforts of administrative duties for the Club.

The Library Club

The Library Club was formed for the first time in Academy history. It had several aims for its members: to learn library procedure, and to grow in reading appreciation. Membership was open to all interested cadets and we received faithful service from the members of the Corps. Our biggest activity of the academic year was the sponsorship of National Library Week in April. This program proved extremely interesting, and we received praise from many interested sources.

An informal organization, the Library Club aided in clerical work, cataloguing, shelving, and, in general, giving assistance to the librarian. Informal meetings were held in the afternoons and on Friday nights, and the devotion and industry of the members made them very informative.

Under the fine guidance of our advisor, Captain William A. Gaynor, we expect to develop the Library club into one of the finest activities of the Corps.

The Creative Arts Club

The Creative Arts club is no stranger to the Valley Forge campus, being established several years ago as the Creative Writing Club. This club endeavors to cultivate in its members an appreciation of all forms of art and writing. The club emphasizes in particular excellence in writing, and each of its members is selected on the basis of a script submitted to the standing members of the club. Each script is then carefully read and discussed before the selectee is voted upon.

The club goes on various trips throughout the year in conjunction with many of the other societies in the school. Trips this year have included a trip to the University of Pennsylvania to hear Mr. Weeks, Editor of the Atlantic Monthly, and the annual trip to Bucks County Playhouse.

As an active group the club contributes to the annual publication of the Sketch Book many short stories and poems. This year Cadets Lambert and Perelle have sent many scripts to the nation's leading magazines in hopes of attaining publication.

The Natural Science Club

The purpose of the Natural Science Club is to stimulate interest in the great outdoors. As in past years, the club was opened to any member of the Corps who showed an enthusiastic interest in modern science.

During the winter months, due to inclement weather, most of the club's activities were confined to laboratory experiments and demonstrations. We also laid emphasis on astronomy and missile developments. We were favored by speeches dealing with the subject "Satellites in Years to Come."

With the coming of Spring the Club's activities turned to field study. We found the vast wooded area surrounding the Junior College building an excellent place for many hours observing the mysteries of nature.

Although our members may not enter the professional world of science the Friday night sessions and the field trips proved both interesting and rewarding. Under the capable guidance of Lt. Colonel Mitterling the club finished a very profitable year.

The Harriers Club

The Harriers Club is an organization attached to "D" Troop. It was formed to bring about company spirit and to further interest in equitation, horse shows, jumping, cross-country rides, and polo. Some of their annual activities include the Devon Horse Show, Harrisburg Horse Show, and the polo games. Some of their functions at the polo games are ushering, hotwalking, and they provide the equipment manager, team manager, and his assistants. The polo team consists of four members of the Harriers Club.

The Harriers Club is run by three people: Master of the Hounds, Secretary, Treasurer, and Whipper-In. The club has a faculty advisor, Lt. Col. Eugene A. Fischer. Col. Fischer also teaches equitation and is coach of the polo team.

To gain entry into the Harriers Club the candidate must be active in riding. He must help the Stable Sergeant in any way possible and he must be active in all functions concerning the Troop. The club has inducted eight new members this year: Cadets Pund, Erbs, Solomon, Lara, Eberharter, Goodman, Hostler, and Gesker. This year the new members have carried out the traditions and high standards of the club well.

Several social functions that the Club sponsored were early-morning breakfast rides and cross-country rides for the entire mounted battalion. This has been a most successful year for the Harriers.

The Battery Club

The Battery Club is the Corps d'Elite of the Battery. The club is charged specifically with the training and spirit of the entire Battery. The Drivers Qualification and the Annual Gunners Competition are but two of the Battery Club's annual projects. The Club is a separate organization within the unit, and yet it is an integral part of the unit, forming a nucleus of trained leadership personnel.

The Battery Club is operated on the selective basis only. Members can only be voted into the club after they have written a five hundred word essay stating why they wish to become a member of the club and what they can do to improve the battery as a whole.

There are only fifteen members of the Battery Club throughout the academic year. All new members are carefully chosen, and must appear before all old club members to give a short recitation.

The Battery Club does many things which neither the Corps nor the Battery know about. They have bi monthly meetings with Major Hodgins, the club advisor, in which they discuss important matters concerning the Battery. They try to improve the Arsenal, making it as enjoyable as possible.

The Motorcycle Club

Probably one of the most colorful activities at the Academy, and surely the noisiest, is The Motorcycle Club. This organization is devoted and dedicated to safety in the sport of cycling. Safety and technique are stressed in applications for membership. An applicant must have a perfect safety record and must compose a 500 word theme on how to improve safety for the future of motorcycling. The applicant must also pass a stringent test of actual motorcycle operation under the watchful eyes of the club advisor, Major Hodgins, and the established members.

The Motorcycle Club has many obligations to the Academy, and their first and biggest job is to do a good job on the parade field. The motorcycle team has added much color by its precision drill at each of the Academy parades.

Throughout the year the club travels the surrounding countryside as a unit or in smaller faster groups. The destination of each ride is merely a means to the end, the end being the safe enjoyment of the sport of cycling.

FOOTBALL

At the beginning of the season Coach John Cervino said, "This is without a doubt one of the best teams I have ever worked with," and they proved it too, with an excellent 6 wins and 2 loss record. With speedy backs like veterans; Jim Pownall, Tom Malone, Bill Edwards; the two newcomers "Butch" Delozier and Bill Sherlock the backfield had no weaknesses. The mighty forward wall; Earl Wagner, Tony Scarcelle, Jerry Feeney, Mike Heininger, Jerry Lake, Pete Ross, Tom Whitesell, Al Prest, and Tom George, were just part of the reason the Trojans had a good season. With the coaching of John Cervino, assisted by Bill Pritchard and "Butch" Patten, the squad had an excellent fund of football knowledge at their fingertips. This then was the team that showed its refusal to let down its spirit, and write in the records another excellent football chapter for The Forge.

ST. FRANCIS PREP.—V.F.

The opening game of the season proved to be a real test of football skill for the Trojans. After five consecutive losses to St. Francis, the cadets were determined to even the score. Under the able coaching of John Cervino the Trojans did just that, with a 28-6 victory. In the first quarter Bill Edwards intercepted a St. Francis pass and went 40 yards to score. The extra point was added by "Butch" Delozier. The second quarter was scoreless, and the half ended V.F. 8, St. Francis 0.

The Trojans opened the second half with an 81 yard drive, highlighted by the brilliant running of Edwards and Pownall. St. Francis then came back up the field for their only tally of the day. Pownall took the kickoff and streaked 85 yards for a touchdown. The third quarter ended with the Trojans ahead 20-6. To wrap it up in the final quarter Mike Heininger intercepted another St. Francis pass and went 20 yards to paydirt. A pass from Bill Sherlock to Earl Wagner added the extra points and the game ended, V.F. 28, St. Francis 6.

WYOMING SEMINARY—V.F.

In their second game of the season the Trojans again showed their ball handling ability as they routed the Blue Knights of Wyoming. In the first quarter Valley Forge marched 75 yards for the first score. "Butch" Delozier and Jim Pownall moved the ball 45 and 30 yards respectively, with Pownall going 6 yards for the score. Delozier then added the extra points and the score stood 8 to 0. Opening the second quarter, the Trojans drove 52 yards for another score. The extra point was not good. Shortly after, Bill Fox recovered a Blue Knight fumble, and Pownall took it for the conversion. Tom Malone added the extra points, and at the half the score stood V.F. 22, Wyoming 0.

Neither team could score during the third quarter and the only serious threat to the Trojans lead was an incomplete Blue Knight pass to the Trojan 2 yard line. The Trojans then steamed back with a 75 yard drive for another touchdown. The extra points were good and the scoreboard read 30 to 0 favor of the Trojans. In the closing minutes of the game Pownall dashed 35 yards for his fourth touchdown climaxing a 65 yard drive. The extra points failed, and the game ended V.F. 36, Wyoming Seminary 0.

PENN CHARTER V.F.

The eleven game winning streak of the Trojans came to an abrupt end as Penn Charter handed the cadets a 36 to 8 defeat. Valley Forge won the toss and received the opening kick. Held for the next three plays, on the fourth the Trojans were forced to kick. A Penn Charter back took the kick on his own 35 and raced up the sidelines 65 yards for the first Penn Charter tally. A series of unfortunate fumbles taken advantage of by Penn Charter, and the cadets found themselves working against a 24 point Penn Charter lead. The second quarter the Trojans settled down and the mighty Penn Charter team was held to only one touchdown.

After the half the cadets charged onto the field determined to redeem themselves. The third quarter was a scoreless duel with neither team making any serious threat of scoring. In the fourth quarter Penn Charter powered their way up the field for another tally. This time the Trojans retaliated and in the closing seconds of the game Earl Wagner went twelve yards for the conversion. Bill Fox came through for the extra points on a sweep around left to give Valley Forge its only score.

SWARTHMORE COLLEGE J.V.—V.F.

On October 16th, Valley Forge journeyed to Swarthmore, Pa. where they met and defeated the Swarthmore College J.V. The opening minutes of the game witnessed a Swarthmore TD and at the end of the quarter they still led 6 to 0. During the second quarter the Swarthmore eleven stalled a Trojan drive on their 16 yard line. The Trojans came right back, and taking advantage of the Swarthmore fumble drove 31 yards to score. The attempted conversion was no good and the half ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

The third quarter saw two Trojan touchdowns, Bill Edwards climaxed a 40 yard Trojan drive by powering over from the 4 yard line. Once again the extra point attempt was no good. Swarthmore received the kickoff, and four plays later were forced to punt thanks to the solid forward wall of the Trojan defense. The punt was received by Edwards and lateralled to Tom Malone who scampered 55 yards up the sidelines to score the third Valley Forge touchdown. In the fourth quarter a Swarthmore punt deep into Trojan territory set up the final touchdown of the game. Two plays after the kick, Edwards went 91 yards to paydirt. Malone then added the extra points and the game ended, V.F. 26, Swarthmore 6.

BORDENTOWN MILITARY INSTITUTE V.F.

For its fifth game of the season, Valley Forge ventured to Bordentown to meet the mighty eleven of our archrivals. In the first quarter the cadets were mostly on the defensive, but the quarter ended scoreless. The second quarter saw action as both teams scored. Bordentown was first, when they picked up a Trojan fumble and four plays later went over for the touchdown. The extra point was good. The Trojans roared back behind the magnificent running of Jim Pownall and Bill Edwards. Edwards went off tackle for the score, and Pownall added the extra point.

Midway through the third quarter, Bordentown, using its heavier line, powered its way downfield, and scored again. The attempted conversion was no good. No further scoring was done during the third period. Again in the fourth quarter B.M.I.'s power started to move. A penalty put the Bordentown men in possession of the ball on Valley Forge's 7 with first down and goal to go. Again the mighty B.M.I. team powered over. The conversion was good, and Bordentown led 20 to 6. "Butch" Delozier then took the kick and streaked an amazing 75 yards for the second Trojan tally. The try for the point failed, and the game ended V.F. 13, Bordentown 20.

DREXEL FRESHMEN—V F

October 31st proved to be a big gridiron day for the Trojans as they piled up 18 first downs with 100 yards gained on the ground. In the first quarter "Butch" Delozier took the handoff and traveled 66 yards to paydirt, putting Valley Forge ahead 6 to 0. Halfway through the second quarter, after a 44 yard run by Delozier, the Trojans completed a 41 yard drive when quarterback Bill Sherlock smoothly picked up his own fumble to score. Bill Edwards added the extra points by bulging his way over, and Valley Forge lead 20 to 0.

Early in the third quarter Tom Malone sprang loose and went 59 yards, then Delozier went over from the 9 on an end sweep. Dick Bauer added the two points as he went over with three men on his back. Another great run by Delozier and a 30 yard scamper by Jim Pownall put the Trojans in position to score again. Delozier did the honors, but the extra point failed. Drexel's only score came in the third quarter after a beautiful 66 yard pass, and short off tackle play.

PERKIOMEN PREP.—V F

Traveling to Pennsbury, Pa., the Trojans again displayed their football ability as they defeated the Perkiomen eleven 47 to 6. Opening the game for the Trojans, Jim Pownall took the kickoff and made a spectacular 98 yard run back, for the first tally. Bill Edwards then added the extra points on an end run. Perkiomen received the kick and four plays later were forced to punt. Tom Malone took the kick and ran 73 yards to score, and the extra points were added by Delozier. The score now stood 14 to 0. In the closing minutes of the first quarter Jim Pownall went from the 10 to climax a 79 yard drive by the Trojans. Perkiomen scored their only touchdown after recovering a Valley Forge come back on a 55 yard pass from Bill Sherlock to Earl Wagner for the TD. Another pass from Sherlock to Al Prest added the extra points. Late in the second quarter Tom Malone climaxed a 35 yard drive by plowing over from the 4 yard line, and the half ended V.F. 33, Perkiomen 6.

The third quarter opened with a pass from Sherlock to Wagner for the tally. Bill Edwards then bulled over for the extra points. Late in the same quarter, Ted McMannis galloped 45 yards for the final Trojan score. The extra points were added by Curt Schantz and the game ended V.F. 47, Perkiomen 6.

WEST NOTTINGHAM—V F

For the final game of the season the Trojans took on the West Nottingham eleven at Alumni Field and defeated them 40 to 18. In the first quarter Tom Malone ran around right end for 29 yards and the first tally of the game. The remainder of the period was scoreless. Opening the second quarter Curt Schantz intercepted a Nottingham pass and in three plays Bill Edwards took the ball 47 yards to paydirt. Schantz then added the points and the score stood V.F. 14, West Nottingham 0. On the last play of the half Jud Malani, a junior quarterback took the ball 42 yards around end for another Trojan TD.

In the third quarter an interception by Malani and a 25 yard run by Al Gellman put the ball on the three from which Schantz again scored. A West Nottingham back took the kickoff and raced 92 yards up the sidelines for the first Nottingham score. Later in the same quarter West Nottingham again scored, but the Trojans came right back when Malone went 55 yards for the TD. The points were added by Gellman. A final Trojan drive capped by a four yard score by Gellman, and an extra point by team manager Dick Crosby ended the V.F. scoring for the day. West Nottingham on the kickoff went 70 yards to paydirt, as the final gun sounded. This ended the Trojan's season with an impressive 40 to 18 victory.

The Trojan cagers, under their new coach, Lieutenant Lord, had a split season this year, winning seven and dropping eight. The season opened up with a running start, as Jim Baisle netted 20 points to help defeat West Nottingham. Baisle again starred in the Hill game, making 22 points as V.F. triumphed in overtime. St. Francis stopped us cold with their 6' 8" center, but again Baisle was high man with 37 nets. The Trojans came right back against Bordentown with a 75-50 romp. In an extremely exciting game the cagers downed Williamson with Barba high man at 15. This time V.F. stopped St. Francis, with Frazler high at 17 points. Admiral Farragut fell, with Barba high man at 22 cages. V.F. came back in the last ten seconds of this Wyoming game and Smedley scored high with 22 nets. The winning streak ended when the netmen met West Nottingham for the second time. Barba was high with 21. Perkiomen came to Trojan home territory and soundly whipped them. Barba again was highman with 22. With Baisle out the Trojans met and fell to Girard, though once again Barba was high with 22. In the next Wyoming game, Smedley was high man with 20, though the Trojans succumbed. In one of the highest scoring games on V.F. record, the Trojans were defeated 113 to 98, with Barba on top for 31 cages. Barba was again high man against Williamson with 35, but again V.F. went under. Against Temple Barba was the high man with 17, and ended up the season with an "Honorable Mention" on the All Main Line Team.

WRESTLING

This years wrestling team wound up the season with a ten loss, one win, and one tied record. Though it did not have an impressive season, it showed up with some excellent individual records. Eldridge Maussner had an excellent season, with only one tie, and all the rest victories. A few of the other individuals with excellent records were: Bert Copeland, William Baker.

The team this year sent wrestlers to two different tournaments; the Lehigh Tournaments, held annually at Lehigh University, and the Episcopal Invitational Tournaments, held at the Palestra, on the University of Pennsylvania's campus.

Eldridge Maussner took a second place in the Lehigh Tournaments in the 154 pound class, and Bill Noe took a fourth at The Episcopal Tournaments.

This years varsity had stiff competition for the positions, and as a result many of the weight classes were split. The team consisted of Gary Miller at 95 pounds, Dave Robinson at 112, Al Regina at 120, Barry Cohen at 128, Ed Wientraub at 133, Dave Perelle at 138, Co-Captain, Carl Keil at 145, Eldridge Maussner at 154, Bert Copeland at 165, Co-Captain, Don Cannava at 175, Charles Roth at 185, and J. Baker at Heavyweight. Larry Lolland wrestled varsity at 138 for a while after a wrestle-off for position, and often Maussner, Copeland and Cannava would trade weights.

POLO

Perhaps one of the most difficult sports engaged in here at the Academy is polo, requiring not only the keenest of wit, but superb horsemanship, and the utmost in teamwork. Under the capable coaching of Col. Fischer, this year's team did remarkably well for themselves. Playing both college and professional teams from all over the Northeastern United States, Col. Fischer's teams have a record of 43 victories and 1 tie in 62 outings in the last five years. This year's team is made up of Chuck Halstead, Rick Weiss, Kit Kerns, and Pete Pund. Weiss was high scorer for the year with 17 goals capturing for him the individual scoring title. Kit Kerns set the game scoring record with a fabulous nine goal game against the V. F. Alumni. The members of "D" troop as well as the school are quite proud of the 1960 Polo team.

SWIMMING

For only its second year in existence, this year's swimming team did an excellent job. Swimming against such formidable opponents as Haverford, Girard College, Ocean City, and Villanova, J. V. the Tritons came home with a split win-loss record.

This year the team entered three men in the annual Eastern Interscholastic meets at Lawrenceville. The meets involved five hundred and twenty-five prep and high school students from 80 schools. Many national records were broken and Varsity Forge came away with three medals. Cadet Wesley captured first in the forty yard dash, and a fifth in the one hundred yard freestyle. Cadet Giles took a fifth in the diving competition.

This year's team was captained by Courtney Wesley, and he was ably assisted by Giles, Myers, Ryan, and Robinson, returning from last year. The coach, Captain Seixas, looks forward to an excellent season next year with Robinson, Myers, Giles, and several of the promising junior varsity returning to give the team the experienced material it needs.

FENCING

This year's fencing team ended up the season with a three wins two losses record. This was an enviable record, considering three of the teams that were played against were college teams. Perhaps the most important match of the season was the match against the men from the University of Pennsylvania. The Triton team went to face the University of Pennsylvania and came home the victors. For the team, their two losses to Johns Hopkins and Perkiomen, were offset by this magnificent victory.

The team this year was coached by Major Hodgens and Captain Harris, and Captained by Cadet Cushman. The members of the team included: Sabers: Cushman, Martinez, Feeney, L., and Walkowiak; Foil: Lugo, Pujals, Devine, Whitmer, and Rowe; Epee: Slezak, Ruschak, Williams and Speedy.

First row: Beaber, Borque, Petow, Grant, Nixon. Second row: Tucker, Jenkins, Nelson, Garland [legible], Turner, Sgt. Connors

RIFLE

The rifle team this year has enjoyed a good season, ranking high in the Philadelphia Area R.O.T.C. League. A rigorous schedule was planned for the team, against some of the top teams in the area, including trips to West Point and Annapolis. Four matches were lost in league competition, two to Drexel and two heart breakers to P.M.C.

The individual high score this year was set by Monte Nixon with a remarkable 290, and the team fired their best score, a 1401, in a triangular match with Temple and St. Joseph's on March 11. The team captain, "Reb" Turner, and the coach, Sergeant Connors, did an excellent job in supporting the team, and coaching them in correct methods of firing.

This year's season, highlighted by the trips to West Point and Annapolis has proven itself a good one, and Valley Forge can be proud to add to its records the history of another successful rifle team.

Improving the rifle scores.

at work perfecting the fundamentals and fine points of the game in their effort to produce another excellent season for the 1960 Valley Forge record books.

Under the able coaching of Cy Perkins, a former Major League great, the baseball team again begins another rugged season. This year's team will be formed around four of last year's returning lettermen: Phil Smedley, Gary DeBlase, Al Sek, and Bob Flemming. This year Al Sek and Bob Flemming will be on the pitcher's mound, backed by "Abe" Abramson, Ed Deboski, Al Prest and Fred Mitchell in the infield, with Gary DeBlase, Frank DeVilling, Pete Ross, Tony Scarcelli, and Al Gellman alternating in the outfield. Bill Sherlock and Phil Smedley will fill the catcher's slot. With a heavy schedule ahead of them, the Trojan Batmen are hard

GOLF

With the advent of spring and warm weather, we find Mr. Clark, of Bryn Mawr and Sergeant Conners, beginning their team tryouts on the lawn of the Seine Estate. On many a bright afternoon, prospective members could be seen walking down Continental Drive, golf bags over their shoulders, ready for a hard afternoon of practice.

When the team was finally picked, a strong and ambitious group was left ready for the 1960 season, headed by Tom Malone and Kit Shantz, the two returning veterans from last year. Both Malone and Shantz had in scores in the low 70's, and they are aided in the low bracket by Dave Bliss, Bill Edwards, and Jeff Blume. The new members of the team are Richard Boarman and Al Maussner. With Valley Forge Golf Club as their home course, the linksmen can make use of its practice to meet the tough schedule ahead. The men, though only seven in number, form the small but powerful 1960 Golf team, who look forward to another excellent season.

TENNIS

Our tennis team this year shows a great deal of promise. Under the able leadership and guidance of Captain Stansbury, the racketmen again look forward to another wonderful season. The number of singles men in this year is newcomer Mike Felt and the returning circuiters are Stansbury, MacDonald, and Moore. The new material for the team this year includes: Calvello, Cameron, Henderson, Otterbein, and the returning old timers are Bean and Degen. The schedule ahead is a rough one, but the coach and team feel that they will have little trouble in fulfilling the school's expectations or living up to the excellent record they established last year.

Sergeant Blume, Connors, Schantz, Edwards, Bass, Boatman, Malone

TRACK

This year's track team, with five returning lettermen, again hopes to chalk up another winning season for the school. Team Captain, Jim Pownall, excels in the low hurdles and sprints, and is ably supported by newcomer "Butch" Delozier. Roland St. Onge and Jim Manning are two of the other returning lettermen, with St. Onge specializing in distance running, and Manning taking care of part of the field events, aided by Mike Heininger, an excellent shot putter. A few of the newcomers include: Milani, George, Smyth and Melcher. They are supported by some of the returning men, with Parker, Luscher, Keenan, Amata, Leopold and others, to form a team that leaves little to be desired, and shows great promise.

Under the able guidance of Lt. Lord, himself a newcomer to the team, the cindermen will meet with such formidable opponents as Haverford, Episcopal, Penn Charter and Malvern. The team again hopes to be able to enter in the Penn Relays and come home with a few medals. With this goal as an incentive and the determination and willingness to overcome a tough season, the 1960 track team is assured an excellent season.

The Editor's Epilogue

The end of the year has finally come. We have long awaited these last few days that signify the end of high school and the coming of college yet it is with some regret that we view these last exercises. There is a mixture of emotions as we look back at the things that stand out in our memories.

The graduating class will long remember Colonel Hess' short writs, Colonel Gardner's Chisholm Trail, Colonel Esrey's room papers, and all the things that brought laughter, sadness, joy and remorse into our lives.

How can we ever forget the Lectures on Democracy, College Boards, Band Concerts, Regimental Inspections, Christmas Pageant, Parades, and everything that, when we look back, will remind us of the verdant campus of Valley Forge. We all know that we will someday return to watch other classes parade to the martial music of the Band and remember the days when we ourselves shared these experiences.
